

IDEAS

The ideas that has changed space travel has probably come from the very thing that we are gathering together, lately for. If we don't do something about space travel and air travel, then space will become a dangerous place to try to go to. Ideas can and will change travel all over the world, in or out of the Earth. The ideas that I want to give you is that we should get more and bigger oxygen tanks to help benefit how long we could stay in places without oxygen. Around the time when the first astronauts went to the moon, the oxygen tanks busted and they all had to survive off of a 'nub' of a tank. They had a long list of instructions so that they could make it back home without running out of air. I personally say why go through the hassle when you could have more air to prevent obstacles of that kind. I also say they should get new and better equipment because using the same equipment will just wear it out, making it mess up more easily.
